TOWN AND COUNTY.

BREVITIES.

A nice shower would be appreciated now.

Improvements at the Asylum are progressing rapidly.

Orange trees flourish in Owens River valley, Inyo county.

Mining experts are going through the Tuscarora mines.

A carload of watermelons came in Saturday from Lodi, Cal.

The change in freight time on the C. P. took place yesterday.

The ground was broken yesterday for the Anderson school house.

Carson lost $3,000, and the champion-ship on the baseball match.

Laughton's Hot Springs are rapidly becoming Reno's Sunday resort.

Dr. Bergstein's residence, on Pow-ning's Addition, is going up rapidly.

There are twelve prisoners in the County Jail. Just enough for a jury.

Mr. Blethen who was injured by the upsetting of his wagon, is doing well.

Workmen are employed tearing down the old livery stable of T. K. Hymers.

Standard Nerve Food a healthful drink. Geo. Becker, agent, Reno, Ne-va.

Go to Osburn & Shoemaker's and try a glass of "Moxie" and soda, the nerve food.

Wm. E. Daugherty and Charley Hill will have a pleasant resort when it is fitted up.

Mr. Linderman disposed of a house and lot near the Seminary yesterday for $1,500.

The assessment roll of Humboldt county shows an increase of $250,000 over last year.

An extra sleeper will hereafter be attached to the night train for the people of Western Nevada.

On Thursday night Miss Finlayson and Mr. Jose, assisted by their friends, will give a concert at Carson.

Money is being raised by subscription in Truckee to mark the spot where the ill-fated Donner party camped.

The Evening Report says that ninety per cent. of the flour used by Virginia bakers comes from the Reno mills.

The parties who purchased the min-ing property in Genessee Valley will have a mill ronning in it forty days.

Just received at H. C. Davis' Lum-ber Yard, a carload of Santa Cruz fin-ishing lime and Wetherspoon New York Plaster.

The carpenter work on Mr. Benson's new residence was completed Saturday. The painting will soon be finished and the house ready for occupation.

The first copy of the Inyo Index has reached this office. It is a bright, newsy paper and ought to receive a hearty wel-come into the journalistic world.

The Turned Drain Ditch case was submitted to Judge Bigelow yesterday. Before rendering his decision he will visit the ditch and view the situation.

Tom Hyners will keep a portion of his stock in the Lake House stable, and the remainder in the back part of the old stable until his new place is com-pleted.

The Pittsburgh Mining Company have adopted the contract system and all the miners are leaving the camp. They say the figures offered by the company are too low.

Colonel Robert Lindsay and wife gave a pleasant party at their residence on Court street Saturday evening in honor of Miss Ella Geiger of Virginia City. It was well attended.

GENEROUS MINERS.—The miners in the Anaconda mine at Butte City, Mon-tana, have donated $1,500 to the fami-lies of those who lost their lives in the Gould & Curry disaster. Prose or poetry can never do justice to the benevolence of the Western miners. They pity, but they do so in a tangible manner. None but those who delve in the dark, deep workings of a mine, realize what danger attends the miner; and in the hour of peril they will risk their lives to save a comrade, or, if lost, they open their purses to the widow and fatherless children. If there is a reward in the world to come for the generous acts that have been chronicled on this earth, every miner will wear a medal.

MADE HAPPY.—Dan Sohl is the hap-piest man in Reno. He has been ex-pecting a relative for sometime, and he put in an appearance yesterday in the shape of a fine healthy boy. Dan's feet didn't touch the sidewalk all day. He wouldn't talk sausage factory or any-thing else but that boy. Mother and child are both doing well.

DICKIE JOSE.

History of Reno's Sweet Singer.

The Far West has sent out into the world men that have become famous in the political, commercial and financial world, and her great work is not yet done. Talent of every description like the "rose that is born to bloom unseen and waste its fragrance on the desert air," can be found in the workshops and mines of the Pacific slope, but occa-sionally long pent up talent will break from its moorings and take its place in the world. In a blacksmith's shop in Reno, Dickie Jose, who has gained a national reputation as an alto singer, was born in the western part of Cornwall, England, on June 5th, 1864, and is now 23 years of age. The Jose family were all singers of more than ordinary ability, his father being the finest singer in Cornwall. On his mother's side, with the exception of Mrs. Jose, there was no vocal talent. Mr. Jose followed the vocation of a miner, and from his labor supported a family of nine persons, Dick being the eldest of seven children, all of whom are excellent singers. When a mere child Dick displayed the talent that has raised him to his present position, and was always willing to join in a song or to sing for the amusement of others. When he was about twelve years old death laid his hand upon his father and he was called to his long home. Fortunately, however, a good home was left to his mother on whom depended the support of her seven children. Mr. Jose at the time of his death, had a brother working in the Belcher mine in Gold Hill, who offered inducements to young Jose to come to America and join him. His mother at last consented and little Dick bade farewell to his Cornwall home and sailed for the New World. His long journey was made without accident and he found himself in the greatest mining camp in the world, thousands of miles from the "island washed by the sea." His uncle at this time, was in comfort-able circumstances and the boy singer had a good home. Stock speculations, after a few months' time, swept away his uncle's fortune, and Dick was cast upon the world to work out his own destiny, and being a boy in a strange land his task was a hard one; and unfre-quently did the recollection of his far-off home come vividly to memory and he would wish himself back again to the scenes of his childhood. After drifting around Virginia for a while, Dick went to Carson hoping to benefit himself, but the bright sun of prosperity was again denied him and after a few months that brought nothing but dis-couragement, he at last drifted into Reno. Here he worked as best he could for a while, when Mr. Luke, the blacksmith, who was well acquainted with Dick when a child in Cornwall, offered him a home with him and an op-portunity to learn a trade. This prop-osition he readily accepted, and while he lives he will never forget his kind benefactor and his estimable wife. Mr. and Mrs. Luke cared for him as tenderly as though he was their own flesh and blood, and his home was made as cheerful for him as the one he had left across the sea. In his conversation regarding his life in America, he always alludes to Mr. and Mrs. Luke tenderly, and regards them both more in the light of parents than friends and they in return have a place in their hearts for the boy that has made such headway on the stage of life. He remained with Mr. Luke for more than six years assisting him in the blacksmith shop. While living with Mr. Luke Dick formed the acquaintance of Miss Eva Quaiffe and Bishop Whitaker, both of whom became his friends. To Miss Quaiffe, Dick Jose, in a great measure, owes his success at the present time. Miss Quaiffe being an excellent vocal teacher, was not long in discovering the undeveloped talent pos-sessed by him, and quickly determined to train the voice that gave so much promise. In this she was encouraged by Bishop Whitaker, and the result is that through her instrumentality and kindness Dick Jose was permitted to lay down the sledge hammer and delight audiences all over this broad land with his vocal powers. Jose says: "But for the kindness of Miss Quaiffe I would not be able to fill the position I fill to-day." Bishop Whitaker inculcated in Dick those principles of morality that have guided him safely through the temptations that surround stage life, and the boy in return holds in high es-teme his noble friend. While in Reno, Dick was ever ready to contribute his share to all the entertainments of a lo-cal nature that took place, and by so doing established a reputation that soon brought him into prominence. Charley Reed, the famous minstrel, who was ever on the lookout for superior talent, soon heard of his marvelous voice and immediately commenced negotiating with him to join his troupe in San Francisco. After considering Reed's proposition Dick accepted it, and made his first appearance in San Francisco in March, 1886. He remained with Reed for about three months when the troupe disbanded and he was on the world again. Birch & Cotton immediately organized a traveling company and Dick's services were engaged. This troupe traveled through Nevada and California, and after a short season they also dis-banded. At this juncture Mr. W. S. Mullaly, who had heard of Jose's repu-tation as an alto singer, called Mr. Dockstader's attention to the matter, and a proposal was made by him to Dick to join the company that he was then organizing. This proposition was accepted without delay and Dick was carried into prominence before he was hardly aware of the fact. Mr. Dockstader took kindly to him and treated him in every respect as he would have treated a boy of his own. His watchful care and good advice has done a great deal to save the boy from the meshes of sin that are strewn along the pathway of traveling men, and in many ways has contributed to the welfare of his blacksmith singer. Mr. Dockstader, in his capacity as manager, has had a varied experience, and is ever ready to assist those in his service in any possible manner. Dick Jose is indebted to him for much of the prominence he enjoys to-day, and speaks of his kind manager in the most glowing terms. If Mr. Dockstader should make a western tour this coming season, he will find that Nevadans can appreciate the kindness he has extended to the Reno boy, and that crowded houses will greet him everywhere in the Sagebrush State. Mr. Mullaly, the leader of Dockstader's or-chestra, a firm friend of the boy, is training him for still better work. He claims that his voice is susceptible of much greater improvement, and that when perfection is reached, Dick Jose will be the finest male alto singer in the world.

Dick has passed his vacation in the Riverside town, and the complimentary benefits that have been tendered him bear testimony of the high esteem in which he is held. He will depart for the East on the 12th of August, and with one voice the people of Reno wish him a pleasant journey, a prosperous season and a safe return. In bidding farewell to his many friends he desires them to remember that wherever he may go he will always think of them in kindness, and will never forget the many courtesies that have been extended to him. No matter where the waves of life may cast him, he will always consider Reno his home and here his vacations will be passed.

RENO'S PETE.

Last Night's Concert—The Theater Crowded—Glorious Singing—A Magnificent Success—Calls and Recalls.

The most brilliantly attired, the largest and most enthusiastic audience ever present at a public entertainment in Reno gathered at the Nevada Theater last night, every seat in the house hav-ing been sold. The gentlemen looked their very best in "Prince Albert's," or the regulation dress-suits. A large ma-jority of the ladies were in evening costume, many without bonnets, the entire auditorium, in fact, presenting the appearance of full "operas." The ladies who attended to beautifying the stage were so successful in their efforts that an attractive, artistically furnished drawing room, with an actual homelike at-mosphere was produced. The opening venture by the Virginia Orchestra was really grand in melody, a foretaste of the fine programme of the evening, every number of which was thoroughly enjoyed. A more than cordial greeting was ex-tended to Miss Flo. Finlayson and Richard Jose as they came upon the stage as the pianist struck the chords of Verdi's grand duo. Both our sweet singers looked very handsome, and as they stood together before the footlights a feeling of exultation thrrobbed in the typical Reno audience, waiting so patiently for the first tones of the well-known, well-loved voices. Miss Flo. wore a dress of white albatross, plain skirt, with long graceful drapery, sleeve-less cordage, with a large bouquet of yellow poppies, high coiffure, jet ornaments, with front-hair arranged in the so-called "Russian" bang, a style very becoming and piquant. "Dickie" was his own easy, warm-hearted self, bearing the extra ornamentation of kid gloves, satin tie, diamond studs, and boutoniere, with an enviable, uncon-scious self-possession. A fairly deafening applause succeeded the dust, in re-sponse to which was given a repetition of the closing score. The vocalists re-cieved enthusiastic encores for every number given, and appreciating the spirit of the occasion, were generous in responding. The grandest of Miss Fin-layson's renditions was "Deh Non Voler Co Stringer," piano accompaniment by Mrs. D. A. Bender. Her glorious contralto rang out in great sound waves of melody that seemed endless in their vi-brations. She reminds one of Schalchi and will some day take her place in the musical world. Miss Flora's teacher at the Boston Conservatory has given the great contralto many a lesson, and takes equal pride in his young pupil from the Silver State. Mr. Jose's solos were every one (as always) enjoyed. The sympathetic quality of his voice brought forth most noticeably in "The Little Wanderer," every word with clearness and mastery of the composer's intention of expression. The closing duet was as entrancing as the opening number, and there was one unanimous sigh of regret that the evening of song was over. Mrs. D. A. Bender, of Carson, Mrs. J. A. Stephens and Richard Rule, of Vir-ginia, vocalists, Mr. Weston, violinist, Prof. Cara, bass viol, and Mr. Grosse, pianist, assisted most ably in the musicals. Mrs. Stephens has a powerful soprano, especially true and clear in the high notes. She sang "Kathleen Mavour-nan," in response to a hearty recall, after the difficult selection "I Love Him." The musical compass of her voice was well shown in the music of "Schubert's Serenade," which she sang with Miss Finlayson. Mrs. Stephens wore a costume of white satin, with decorations of rich lace, diamond ornaments. Mrs. D. A. Bender sang "Mar-guerite" with perfect taste and expres-sion. Her voice is contralto, very pow-erful in the lower register. In response to the unanimous recall which her solo received, she sang a decidedly taking ballad, "This Bonnie Lass O' Mine." Mrs. Bender wore a very beautiful ever-ing dress, skirt composed entirely of narrow cream lace ruffles, and an ar-tistically draped polonaise of cream silk grenadine with stripes of delicate lavender, with full lace decoration. The concert was concluded with a dance to the entrancing strains of the orchestra, the music of which is still ringing in our ears.

RETURNED.—Professor Willis and Harry Rolfe have returned from their ten days trip, on horseback, around Lake Tahoe. They are sunburned and ragged, and both look as though they had been run through a threshing ma-chine. They both say they enjoyed the trip and are greatly improved in health.

RENO GUARD ATTENTION!—You will appear at your Armory on Tuesday eve-ning, August 9th, at 8:30 o'clock, for drill and business.

250 Beautiful Lots For Sale!

A RARE CHANCE FOR INVESTMENT AND A HOME.

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Riverside Avenue Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the Tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

PARKER'S MAP OF NEVADA.

PARKER'S NEW MAP OF NEVADA.

THIS NEW AND BEAUTIFUL

MAP OF THE STATE,

Has Just Been Published, and is Now Ready for Sale

It has been completed with great care in order to be being strictly correct, and furnishes a vast fund of valuable information regarding the topography of the State. There never has been a Map of the State prepared heretofore worthy of the name, and it is intended to fill a long-felt want on the part of citizens. It has been lithographed at large expense by the famous publishing house of Rand, McNally & Co., of Chicago, and does great credit to their well-known skill in the art. The Map is drawn on a scale of 12 miles to the inch, and shows all surveyed Townships up to date of issue, also all Mountain Ranges, Valleys, Rivers, Creeks, Brooks, Streams and Lakes; it also shows the correct position of all Indian and Military Reservations, and all Cities, Towns and Settlements; also all Railroads and the principal Wagon Roads. The County Boundaries are also depicted with absolute correctness, which is something that no other Map has ever approximated to.

The Map is printed on the best of paper, and mounted with stick, top and bottom, with tape on edges and varnished; it is also printed on thin, strong paper, which folds up in stout covers for pocket form. The Counties are printed with different colors, making it altogether an ornament to any school house, office, saloon or private room, as well as valuable for instruction and reference.

The Map has been compiled by John W. Parker, the Chief Draughtsman of the United States Surveyor-General's Office at Reno, who holds the copyright, and is the condensation of all information on file in that office, as well as the celebrated War Department Maps prepared by Lieutenant Wheeler; he has also had at his command other recent and reliable data on which to rely, and the Map is issued to the public in the firm belief that it is in every way authentic.

The Price of the Map is $5.00,

And copies will be sent to any address, postpaid, upon receipt of the money. Parties ordering will be careful to state which style is desired—mounted or pocket form.

Reno, Nevada.
